MPD Acquires Ohio Valley 2-Way Radio

Gary J. Braswell, President and CEO of MPD, Inc., announced today that MPD had acquired Ohio Valley 2-Way Radio ("Ohio Valley"), effective December 31, 2013.

Ohio Valley, located at 2035 East Parrish Avenue in Owensboro, is an Authorized Motorola Radio Solutions Channel Partner providing radio communication sales and service. It plays a similar role with Vertex Standard two-way radio equipment and Whelen Engineering weather warning systems. Ohio Valley's business is concentrated in the Kentucky counties of Daviess, Union, Henderson, Hancock, Webster and McLean, and the Indiana counties of Spencer and Perry. Customers of Ohio Valley are government agencies and private businesses involved in manufacturing, service and agriculture.

Braswell said, "MPD was initially interested in Ohio Valley because of the similarity of its customer base with that of MPD's subsidiary On-Duty Depot, Inc. The more we learned about Ohio Valley, the more convinced we were that MPD owning both businesses would provide enhanced value to both sets of customers." "The initial response of key Ohio Valley customers has been very positive," stated Braswell.

Ohio Valley was established in 1982 and purchased by Larry and Ruth Brown in 1987. They moved the business into the current, purpose-built facility on East Parrish Avenue in 1992.

Ohio Valley will operate as a separate MPD subsidiary from its current location. Kevin D. Willis, who serves as President of On-Duty Depot, will also serve as President of Ohio Valley.
